

Furla appoints Marco Gadola as Head of Travel Retail

ITALY. Italian luxury goods company Furla has appointed Marco Gadola as Head of Travel Retail.

Marco Gadola takes over the travel retail reins at Furla

A highly-respected executive in the fashion and eyewear sectors, Gadola joined the Furla management team earlier this week.

He will be supported by Furla Global Head of Travel Retail Giulia Agnoli until she leaves the company on 24 January.

Gadola was Travel Retail Manager – Americas for the Luxottica Group before joining Desigual as Global Travel Retail Director in 2011. After more than seven years with the Spanish brand, Gadola co-founded Chiara's Runaway, a travel style guide, in 2018.
